HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL

BOSTON

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

All candidates must present evidence satisfactory to the Committee on Admission not simply that they have passed the courses necessary to fulfil the requirements, but also that their college work has been of such character as to give promise of work of high quality in the medical course.

On the above basis this School considers for admission to its classes graduates in arts or in science of approved colleges or scientific schools.

In exceptional cases applicants without a degree who have completed two or more years of work in a college or scientific school of high rank, provided they present certificates that they have scholastic standing placing them in the first third of their class, may be admitted.

LANGUAGE AND SCIENCE REQUIREMENTS *

(a) All applicants must present evidence that they have such knowledge of English as is ordinarily required of all candidates for a degree in an approved college and that they have a reading knowledge of French or of German.

(b) They must present evidence that they have college credits for at least a year's work in general inorganic chemistry, in physics, in biology, and in organic chemistry.

To meet the science requirements satisfactorily, time credit in college should be secured as follows:

Inorganic Chemistry: A minimum of eight semester hours, of which at least four should be laboratory work.

Organic Chemistry: A minimum of eight semester hours, of which at least four should be laboratory work.

Physics: A minimum of eight semester hours, of which at least two should be laboratory work.

* It is assumed that before admission to an acceptable college a four years' course in High School or its equivalent will have been completed.

Biology: A minimum of eight semester hours (including not less than four hours of zoölogy), of which at least four should be laboratory work.

NOTE. — A semester hour is one hour of lecture or recitation, or two hours of laboratory work, per week for one half-year or sixteen weeks. Full courses at Harvard count as eight semester hours.

These requirements must be satisfied in full before matriculation.

ADMISSION TO ADVANCED STANDING

Students who began their medical studies in approved medical schools may be admitted to advanced standing and become candidates for the degree of M.D. under the following conditions: —

They must have fulfilled the requirements for admission enumerated on the preceding page prior to their matriculation as students of medicine. They must be vouched for as promising men by the Dean or other responsible officer of the School from which they come.

They must furnish a certificate of time spent in medical study at least equal to that spent by the class to which they seek admission.

They must furnish certificate that they have done satisfactory laboratory and practical work in the subjects already pursued by the class to which they seek admission. The Committee on Admission will decide in each case whether examinations in the various subjects shall be required.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Students are divided into four classes according to their time of study and proficiency. The Faculty reserves the right to require the withdrawal of any student at any time whenever in the opinion of his instructors it is manifest that he is incompetent for his work, or for any reason is unfit to continue his course.

Students registering in the Medical School for the first time will meet in the amphitheatre in the Administration Building, on Monday, preceding the last Wednesday in September, at 9.30 A.M.

In order that the time of study shall count as a full year, students of all classes must register on Monday, the first day of the session.

For special and approved purposes students may be allowed to take a portion of their work elsewhere than at the Harvard Medical School, provided that the application be approved by the Dean in consultation with the Administrative Board and the head of the department concerned, and provided that the student pass an examination on this work after its completion, conducted by a member of the Faculty of the Harvard Medical School.

EXAMINATIONS AND PROMOTION

Each student will receive a rating in each course based upon examinations or other tests as determined by each department. These marks shall be on the scale of A, B, C, D, and E, E denoting failure.

No student is allowed to anticipate the examinations in the regular course of studies of his year except by special permission of the Administrative Board.

After two failures to pass an examination each student must pay a fee of three dollars at the Dean's Office before appearing for each additional examination in the same subject.

A Promoting Board for each of the first three years, consisting of members of each department giving the principal courses during that year, will meet in February to act upon cases presented as a result of the work of the first half-year and in June for the work of the entire year. The Boards will determine and send to the Dean's Office, before the final Faculty meeting in June, a mark for each student for the corresponding school year.

It is the duty of a Promoting Board, after receiving marks from the departments concerned, to promote those qualified, to warn or condition any student as occasion demands, to interview and examine any student of whom it is in doubt, and to recommend to the Faculty that unpromising students be requested to withdraw.

The actions of the Promoting Boards are final, subject only to the standing rules of the Faculty which follow and to confirmation by that body. Appeals from the action of the Promoting Boards must be made in writing and must be in the hands of the Assistant Dean before July 15th. The Assistant Dean is directed to refer them to the Promoting Boards, only in case there is a change in the information upon which the action was taken.

1. A student who fails two major subjects in one year shall withdraw from the School.

2. Passing in all subjects with a minimal grade is not sufficient grounds for promotion. Any student who has failed to be promoted under this rule, and who wishes to repeat the previous year, must apply to the Committee on Admission for permission to do so.

3. The Promoting Boards at their discretion may promote a student who has failed in one subject in a year, but such a student shall not be promoted a second time nor be allowed to take the General Examination until that failure is removed.

4. A student who has failed to be promoted on two occasions shall withdraw from the School.

5. A student failing any course shall have an opportunity for reëxamination only in September or with a succeeding class or section.

6. No course marks may be given out except by the Dean or Assistant Dean. The general mark given by the Promotion Board shall be announced from the Dean's Office.

The Committee on Examinations will give a General Examination to each candidate for the degree of M.D., will give him a final mark, and will recommend to the Faculty those properly qualified for the degree and for honors. The Examination will include written, oral or practical tests, at the discretion of the Committee. It will be held in June and February and may be held at other times if the Committee so decides.

The conditions under which a student may be allowed to take his General Examination, and the character and conduct of the Examination, will be determined by the Committee, subject only to the rules of the Faculty which follow :

1. The Committee on Examinations shall not admit a student to the General Examination unless he has passed at least seven-eighths of his fourth-year courses, including medicine and surgery, and fulfilled all of the other requirements of the Faculty.

2. A student who has failed three times in a General Examination shall be debarred from further attempts.

WITHDRAWAL FROM THE SCHOOL

A student may withdraw from the School, upon application to the Assistant Dean, for a period of one year. If reinstatement is not secured within the year, the student must apply for readmission in compliance with all the regulations governing admission to advanced standing in force at the time of reapplication. The return of fees and bond cancels registration.

DEGREES

DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF MEDICINE

Every candidate for the degree of DOCTOR OF MEDICINE at this University must be at least twenty-one years of age, and of good moral character. He must have fulfilled all the requirements for admission to this Medical School; give evidence of having studied in a recognized medical school at least four full years, of which one year must be spent in the regular fourth-year course of this School; have passed all the required examinations; have dissected the three parts of the body to the satisfaction of the demonstrator; have taken charge of and reported on twelve cases in Obstetrics under supervision and instruction; and furnish evidence of having engaged in the practical exercises in Medicine and Surgery.

The degree of Doctor of Medicine cum laude or magna cum laude may be given to students of highest rating in the class, on recommendation of the Committee on Examinations.

Every candidate for the degree of M.D. must make application for it in writing on blanks furnished at the Dean's office, on or before May 1 of the year in which he proposes to graduate.

HIGHER DEGREES IN THE MEDICAL SCIENCES

The degrees Master of Arts, Doctor of Philosophy, and Doctor of Medical Sciences have been established for advanced work in some special field in the Medical Sciences. The first two degrees are voted by the Faculty of Arts and Sciences upon the recommendation of a Committee consisting of members of the Faculties of Medicine and of Arts and Sciences. The degree of Doctor of Medical Sciences is administered by the above Committee, excepting the members from Harvard College, and the degree is voted by the Medical Faculty. All candidates for these degrees must hold a degree in Arts or in Sciences from an approved college. These degrees are not awarded for mere reason of faithful study for a prescribed time, but primarily for high attainment in a selected science.

MASTER OF ARTS AND DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY

Candidates for the degree of Master of Arts must register in the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, and pursue an approved course of study in medical science for at least one year.

Candidates for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy must fulfil certain preliminary requirements described in the general University Catalogue, must devote to approved advanced studies not less than two years — at least one of which must be spent in residence at this University — and must pass general examinations and present an account of original work in an accepted thesis, before being granted the degree.

The fees are $250 for each year.

DOCTOR OF MEDICAL SCIENCES

Candidates for this degree must matriculate as medical students and complete with an honor grade the regular elementary courses offered by this School in Anatomy, Histology and Embryology, Physiology, Biological Chemistry, Bacteriology, Pathology, Pharmacology and Clinical Pathology, together with such other subjects as may be recommended by the Committee. In addition all candidates are required to have a reading knowledge of French and German. Ordinarily this preparatory training will be equivalent to the first two years of the course of study leading to the degree of M.D. Students who have completed all or a portion of this work in other approved medical schools may be admitted to candidacy upon presenting evidence that they have passed the above subjects or their equivalents with an honor grade, and upon passing the general examination described below.

Following the completion of this preliminary training the student shall devote himself for not less than two years to the intensive study of one of the fundamental medical sciences and to the preparation of a thesis. The thesis must show an original treatment of a fitting subject and give evidence of independent research.

There shall be two examinations for every candidate for this degree, a general examination, before entering upon the work of the last two years, covering the elementary medical sciences listed above; and a final examination, upon acceptance of the thesis, covering the particular medical science chosen as a special field.

The fees for the first two years are the same as for medical students.

Further information concerning the higher degrees may be secured from Dr. E. A. Boyden, Secretary of the Division of Medical Sciences, Harvard Medical School.

FEES AND EXPENSES

DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF MEDICINE

The fees are :—For matriculation, $5; for instruction (including laboratory charges except breakage, damage and loss of apparatus), $300 for each year. Tuition will be charged on the termbills in four instalments, as follows :—

One-fourth on a termbill issued and payable September 28.

One-fourth on a termbill issued November 12 and payable November 30.

One-fourth on a termbill issued January 12 and payable January 30.

One-fourth on a termbill issued April 12 and payable April 30.

The matriculation fee will be charged on the termbill of September 28. Bills for miscellaneous charges will be rendered at the time the indebtedness is incurred. A deposit of $50 is required of every new student who accepts a place in the Medical School; this sum to be applied on his first termbill or to be forfeited if the student does not register.

Any student whose indebtedness to the University remains unpaid on the date fixed for payment is deprived of the privileges of the University until he is reinstated. Reinstatement is obtained only by consent of the Dean of the Department in which the student is enrolled, after payment of all indebtedness and a reinstatement fee of $10. Students will be held responsible for the payment of fees until they have notified the Dean, in writing, of their intention to withdraw from the School, and have subsequently received their bond from the Bursar.

Beginning with the academic year 1925-26 all matriculants will be required to own their microscopes and hemocytometers. These must be of a type acceptable to the Committee on Microscopes. Their cost will be about $130.00. In exceptional cases, upon application to the Dean's Office before September 1, a matriculant may be permitted to rent a microscope.

A deposit of $1 with the Superintendent of Buildings will entitle the student to the use of a locker in the School buildings.

There are no dormitories. Students find rooms in houses near the School, at from $4 to $7.50 a week; table board (usually not given at the same house) may be had at from $7 to $10. a week.

BOND REQUIRED OF STUDENTS

Every student is required to file with the Bursar on his entrance to the School a bond of $100 executed by two sufficient bondsmen (one of whom must be a citizen of the United States), or to deposit $100 in money, to cover the loss or injury of any property belonging to the University, or for which it is responsible.* No officer or student of the University is accepted as a bondsman.

MEDICAL ATTENDANCE

The Medical School provides a physician to students, who will give physical examination or medical treatment without charge during his office hours, from 12 to 1 o'clock on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, Room 386, Building D I, or at other times by appointment.

Under the auspices of the Deaconess Hospital a physical examination will be given each student during the academic year 1925-26.

Not later than October 1 in each academic year, any student may pay to the Bursar the sum of $7 for the maintenance of the Stillman Infirmary; and, on the order of a physician, every student who has taken advantage of this opportunity will be given, in case of sickness, in return for the fee, a bed in a ward, board, and ordinary nursing for a period not exceeding two weeks in any one academic year.

BUILDINGS

The course in Medicine, established by Harvard University in 1782, was given in buildings of the College, University Hall and Holden Chapel, from its establishment until 1810, when the classes were transferred to Boston. In 1816 the first Medical School building was erected. From 1882 until 1906 the School occupied the building at the corner of Boylston and Exeter Streets, now used by Boston University.

* Beginning with the academic year 1926-27 a $200 bond will be required.

In 1906 the University completed a notable group of white marble buildings on Longwood Avenue for the Medical School. These buildings are five in number and with their surrounding grounds occupy eleven acres of land in the outskirts of Boston. One of these is designed for administration and four for housing the laboratory departments, and for laboratory and clinical instruction.

OUTLINE PLAN OF THE HARVARD MEDICAL SCHOOL

The Administration Building, with over 40,000 square feet of floor space, contains the Faculty Room, the Dean's offices, the central library, the Warren Museum, an amphitheatre seating one hundred and twenty-five, a lunch room, and a students' room.

The laboratory buildings, designated by the letters B, C, D, and E, are all constructed on the same general plan. Each consists of two parallel wings united at the front by an amphitheatre with a seating capacity of two hundred and fifty. Both the smaller rooms and the laboratories were designed on a unit system which greatly simplifies the changes required in making these suited to the needs of departments whose methods of teaching have changed since the rooms were originally designed.

The amount of floor space varies considerably in each of the four buildings, but the design is such that this variation is not apparent from the main quadrangle.

Building B accommodates the department of Anatomy, Histology, and Embryology. The wings each have three floors and a total floor space of over 52,000 square feet.

Building C provides space for the departments of Physiology, Physical Chemistry, Biochemistry, and Experimental Surgery. In this building each wing has four floors and a total floor space of 62,000 square feet.

Building D is occupied by the departments of Bacteriology, Neuropathology, Pathology, and Tropical Medicine. In this building there are five floors in one wing and three floors in the other, with a total floor space of over 48,000 square feet.

Building E houses Pharmacology, Preventive Medicine, and Comparative Pathology. There are three floors in one wing and four floors in the other, with a floor space of 35,000 square feet.

The outline plan of the buildings and their position is shown on p. 36.

LIBRARIES

The central library of the School is in Charles B. Porter Hall in the Administration Building, and in the other buildings are branch libraries. By an arrangement with the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital the library facilities of the two institutions are combined in the central library. This library is open from 9 A.M. until 10 P.M., on Saturdays from 9 A.M. until 1 P.M. The present number of volumes in the library is 43,310, and in addition there are 96,478 pamphlets and 376 current periodicals kept on file.

The College Library at Cambridge is open to the students of this School.

The Boston Public Library is open to students who are inhabitants of Boston. Students, not inhabitants of Boston, who have filed a bond at the Bursar's office, may also use this library. The Bursar will furnish on application the necessary certificate of bond.

The Boston Medical Library, No. 8 The Fenway, contains about 133,348 bound volumes and 91,456 pamphlets, and nearly 522 current periodicals are on file. This very valuable library is open to those who desire to consult medical literature, on week days from 9.30 A.M. to 10 P.M., on Saturdays till 6 P.M.

WARREN ANATOMICAL MUSEUM

The Warren Anatomical Museum was founded, in 1847 by JOHN COLLINS WARREN, of the College Class of 1797, Adjunct Professor of Anatomy and Surgery from 1809 to 1815, Hersey Professor of Anatomy and Surgery from 1815 to 1847, Professor Emeritus from 1847 to his death in 1856, son to JOHN WARREN, the first Hersey Professor of Anatomy and Surgery. This important Museum is open to students in the School, and its collections are used in demonstration of the lectures. It occupies the upper three floors of the Administration Building.

The collection has over eleven thousand specimens, illustrating both normal and pathological anatomy. Students may have access to these specimens at any time upon application to the Curator.

Besides dissections and serial sections of many bones, the anatomical collection includes many corrosion preparations, plaster and papier maché models of bones, organs, and various parts of the body, and frozen sections.

The pathological collection is being constantly enlarged by the addition of numerous specimens, many of them preserved in their natural colors.

The American Ambulance of Paris has contributed a large number of specimens, from the European War, showing the effects of bullet wounds of the head and extremities, and the lesions of "gas gangrene." Also photographs of apparatus and the results of operation. The whole forms a most valuable collection, especially for a student of military surgery.

Exhibits of specimens illustrating topics of special interest are made from time to time.

HOSPITAL FACILITIES

The transfer in 1810 of the Medical School of Harvard University from Cambridge to Boston was made in order to secure the advantages of the larger clinical facilities which are to be found in large cities. Clinical advantages from the students' viewpoint are not a matter of large hospitals only, but rather are related to the number of patients in these hospitals who are under the care of instructors on the staff of the Medical School and available for teaching purposes. This School is closely affiliated on the above basis with the hospitals described in the following list, thus offering Harvard Medical School students an unrivaled opportunity to secure a well-organized clinical experience and knowledge of disease. Each student comes into intimate contact, under supervision, with patients in these hospitals, beginning in the second half of the second year and increasing until the fourth year, when the students serve as clinical clerks and give all their time to the study of patients.

The Massachusetts General Hospital. — This is a general hospital associated with the Medical School since its foundation in 1821. There are services in Medicine, Surgery, Pediatrics, Dermatology, Genito-Urinary diseases, Laryngology, Orthopaedics, Neurology, and Syphilis, all of which are used in giving instruction in these special departments of medicine. The hospital has 510 beds, 400 of them being available for teaching purposes. Large out-patient departments in the above clinical departments are also used for instruction. 29,677 new patients were admitted to the out-patient department last year for a total of 185,562 visits. 10,110 patients were treated in the Emergency Ward. Laboratories in pathology, chemistry, and X-ray are maintained, and there is an excellent medical library, all of which are open to students in the Medical School.

The Boston City Hospital. — This hospital, with approximately 1200 beds, all of which are available for teaching purposes, serves as one of the teaching units for the Medical School. The 4th medical and the 5th surgical service are under the direction of the Professors of Medicine and Surgery at the Harvard Medical School. In addition there is a division of Pediatrics, Gynaecology, etc., open to medical students. In the out-patient department, 82,082 new patients applied for diagnosis and treatment and furnish additional teaching material. Clinical laboratories are maintained in Chemistry, Chemical Research, Pathology, and X-ray. There is an excellent library, including 75 current medical journals.

The Boston City Hospital, South Department. — This hospital is for contagious diseases and occupies a block by itself adjacent to the Boston City Hospital proper. It has a capacity of 338 beds and has abundant material for clinical instruction. Students make ward visits three or more times a week. Last year there were 2,551 cases treated, of which 851 were scarlet fever and 835 were diphtheria.

The Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. — This hospital has been closely associated with the Medical School since its dedication in 1913. It is for general medical and surgical cases, and is situated on grounds adjacent to the Medical School buildings. There are 223 beds, all of which are used for teaching purposes. There is also maintained an out-patient service for ambulatory medical and surgical patients to which 8,846 new patients applied during the past year. The total number of visits was 59,336. There are well-equipped medical, surgical, and pathological laboratories. The hospital, by special arrangement, makes use of the library of the Medical School.

The Children's Hospital.—The buildings of this hospital are on Longwood Avenue, adjacent to the Medical School. This hospital maintains a medical, surgical, orthopaedic, nose and throat, and a well-babies clinic. There are 211 beds, of which 165 are available for teaching purposes. During the year there were 5,114 cases treated in the wards, and 57,693 visits were made to the out-patient department. Well-equipped laboratories are provided for the study of material from the wards and out-patient service.

The Infants' Hospital (Thomas Morgan Rotch Jr. Memorial Hospital for Infants).—This hospital is adjacent to and under the management of the Children's Hospital. There are 55 beds, all of which are devoted to the care of infants. All of the cases in this hospital are available for teaching.

The Boston Lying-in Hospital.—This hospital occupies a building completed in 1923 at 221 Longwood Avenue. Of the 100 beds, 65 are used for teaching. During the past year 1,739 patients received treatment in the hospital, of whom 1,329 were delivered. In addition, in the out-patient department, 1,339 cases were attended under supervision by third and fourth-year students. A well-equipped laboratory is available.

The Free Hospital for Women.—This hospital is devoted exclusively to the surgical treatment of diseases peculiar to women. The hospital has a capacity of 95 beds, of which 75 are available for teaching. In the out-patient department there were 6,735 consultations last year. Library and laboratory facilities are available.

Boston Psychopathic Hospital.—This is a state institution for acute, curable, incipient, and doubtful cases of mental disease. The hospital was opened to patients in June, 1912. It has 110 beds, all of which are available for teaching, and receives patients at the rate of about 2,000 a year. The hospital is equipped with psychological, neuropathological and biochemical laboratories. The out-patient department receives patients at the rate of 1,500 a year. In addition to the psychoses and neuroses, the clinical material includes cases of mental defect and disorder in childhood, cases of mental instability, and of delinquency.

The Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary.—There are 211 beds in this hospital, 168 of which are used for instruction in diseases of the eye and ear. Over 7,000 cases are treated in the wards, and last year there were 70,000 out-patient visits. Nose and throat out-patient operations are done at the Massachusetts General Hospital. A pathological and X-ray laboratory is maintained.

The Collis P. Huntington Memorial Hospital and the J. Collins Warren Laboratory of Bio-Physics. — This hospital and laboratory of the Cancer Commission of Harvard University afford opportunity for the study of human tumor cases. The aim of the hospital is to study special problems concerning the natural history and the treatment of tumors. It affords a means for early diagnosis, treatment, or advice regarding therapeutic measures. There are 25 beds, all of which are available for teaching purposes; out-patients are received at stated hours. During the past year, 1,640 new patients were treated in the house and out-patient department.

The Boston Sanatorium. — This is a thoroughly modern hospital of 420 beds, all of which are available for instruction in the treatment of tuberculosis. The hospital affords facilities for the demonstration of all stages and types of the disease as well as the various forms of treatment. The institution is closely affiliated with the Harvard Medical School. Students in the Harvard Medical School have practical instruction in tuberculosis in the wards of this hospital.

The Boston Dispensary. — 151,460 visits were made by out-patients at this institution during the past year. Students have opportunity for seeing practical work in the diagnosis and treatment of cases in medicine and surgery. The opportunities in children's work are good, as there is, in addition, a well-equipped hospital for children, with 30 beds, chiefly for medical cases. The Dispensary is used mainly for graduate instruction.

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS

About eighty appointments as internes and assistants are made annually to hospitals in and about Boston for terms of service varying from six months to two years. These appointments are made after a competitive examination.

THE CANCER COMMISSION OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY

The Cancer Commission of Harvard University was founded in 1899, by the late Mrs. Caroline Brewer Croft, who left in her will a sum of money for the investigation of the cause and treatment of cancer. Since that time other sums have been contributed for cancer research, and the Cancer Commission of Harvard University was organized in 1909. Robert B. Greenough, M.D., is Director.

PROCTOR FUND

A bequest of fifty thousand dollars by Ellen Osborne Proctor, for the purpose of promoting the study of chronic diseases, subsequently has been increased by an additional fifty thousand dollars from another member of the Proctor family. The income of this fund is to be devoted to the care in hospital of persons afflicted with chronic disease, and to investigations into the nature and treatment of the same. The special disposition of the income of this fund is under the control of the heads of the departments of Theory and Practice of Physic, Clinical Medicine, and Pathology. Henry A. Christian, M.D., is Chairman of the Proctor Fund Committee.

HARVARD INFANTILE PARALYSIS COMMISSION

A Commission for the purpose of assisting in the early recognition, treatment, and study of infantile paralysis was appointed by the Corporation September 25, 1916.

This Commission shortly after it was established was appointed agent of the State Department of Health, thereby assuring coöperation with the Commonwealth. The Commission also coöperates with the Vermont Board of Health. The Chairman is Mr. Roger Pierce.

COURSES FOR GRADUATES

The object of this Division of the Medical School is to offer graduates in Medicine opportunities to continue their studies in a thorough and scientific manner.

While all courses are intended primarily for those who hold degrees from recognized medical schools, certain courses in the scientific subjects are adapted to the needs of advanced students and teachers of science. Such persons may be admitted to courses on the approval of the Advisory Committee.

Undergraduate students of medicine may be admitted to such courses as they are qualified to take. Special consideration for the needs of such students will be given in the plans for summer courses.

Laboratory facilities at the Harvard Medical School and the abundant clinical opportunities in the various hospitals are available for graduate instruction. Clinical and laboratory instruction will be conducted in small classes so that students may receive personal attention.

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC HEALTH

This School was opened in 1922 to organize under one Faculty courses in Public Health, some of which were previously offered by other departments of the University and of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Its object is to provide the scientific groundwork which underlies efficient health administration.

Courses in Bacteriology, Parasitology, Epidemiology, Communicable Diseases, Tropical Medicine, Public Health Administration, Physiology, Nutrition, Ventilation and Illumination, Vital Statistics, Sanitary Engineering, Mental Hygiene, are offered, which aim to train the student to become an intelligent public health official. Opportunity is also given to students wishing to pursue research in Public Health. Any course may be taken singly, or a student may devote a considerable period of time to one subject. For further information, apply to the Secretary.

FELLOWSHIPS AND SCHOLARSHIPS

FELLOWSHIPS

BULLARD FELLOWSHIPS. Established in 1891 by a gift from WILLIAM STORY BULLARD of Boston, "in memory of three physicians who were distinguished for their honorable personal character and for their professional services in this community." The three following fellowships were established:—

THE GEORGE CHEYNE SHATTUCK MEMORIAL FELLOWSHIP . .	$425
THE JOHN WARE MEMORIAL FELLOWSHIP . . . . .	425
THE CHARLES ELIOT WARE MEMORIAL FELLOWSHIP . . . . .	400

The income from any one or all of these fellowships may be paid to any student or member of the medical profession who shall be selected by the Administrative Board of the Medical School to make such original investigations in Medical Science as in their opinion will be most useful to the profession and to the community. The results of such investigations shall not, however, be published as a research performed under the grant of a Bullard Fellowship, unless the work shall have received the approval of the Committee. If published with the approval of the Committee, mention shall be made of the fact that the work was done under a Bullard Fellowship.

Holders of Bullard Fellowships are required to do an amount of work equivalent to not less than ten hours a week throughout the academic year and to present to the Committee at the end of the academic year a report on the amount and result of the work performed.

Applications for the Bullard Fellowships must be handed to the Dean on or before May 1.

It was the desire of the givers that there be established in the Medical School a Charles Follen Folsom Teaching Fellowship in Hygiene or in Mental and Nervous Diseases, and that the incumbent receive the annual income of the fund, or such part of it as may be consistent with the standing rules of the Corporation in such cases. This fellowship has been assigned to the Department of Hygiene until the further order of the President and Fellows.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF COURSES

The "Announcement of Courses" comprises a statement by each Department as to its general plan of instruction and its various required exercises, followed by a resumé of the Fourth-Year Elective Courses and the Voluntary Courses.

Each student in the fourth year must secure credit for eight one-month courses of 144 hours or their equivalent. Required courses fill seven months' time, leaving one month free for elective work. Students may anticipate certain of the required courses during the summer preceding the fourth year and thus gain more time for elective work in the fourth year. In the following statements whole courses have a value of 144 hours, half-courses of 72 hours, and quarter-courses of 36 hours.

An opportunity for voluntary work is offered to second and third-year students on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. It is believed that upper-classmen will welcome a chance to keep in touch with the most recent developments in the fundamental sciences; that an interest in certain fundamental subjects will have been aroused by their clinical work; or that they may feel the desire for additional training on some point. Students are not required or even asked to take this work: it is entirely a voluntary matter, and no credit will be given.

Pamphlets describing the opportunities for elective and voluntary work in detail and outlining the special conditions under which such work may be undertaken are issued to the students each spring.

In the department of Anatomy, instruction is given in Anatomy, Comparative Anatomy, Histology, and Embryology. The department occupies the Morgan Anatomical Building, the dissecting rooms being in the wing designated B I, and the laboratories for Histology, Embryology, and Comparative Anatomy in the wing B II. There are separate rooms for second-year, fourth-year and graduate students and for various kinds of technical work. The class work is carried on by sections in unit rooms, designed to accommodate either twelve or twenty-four students. There is a large library which contains complete files of the most important anatomical and morphological journals, together with many standard works of reference, and in an adjoining room there is a collection of about ten thousand pamphlets. A card catalogue and a classified bibliography give ready access to the literature.

The laboratory offers exceptional facilities for work in human and comparative anatomy and embryology.

The Embryological Collection is a unique feature of the laboratory. It comprises over two thousand series of sections of carefully selected vertebrate embryos, and affords therefore opportunities for research in comparative embryology such as cannot be found elsewhere. The collection includes eighty series of sections of human embryos, several of which are of exceptional value, among them being two of the very youngest stages of man yet obtained. The collection of embryological models contains the standard series and many unique original models.

REQUIRED COURSES

First Year. — The courses of the first year are intended to teach human anatomy, both gross and microscopic, together with the essentials of human embryology. Half of the time is devoted to work in the dissecting room, the other half to work in the histological and embryological laboratories. In the study of gross anatomy, each student makes a complete dissection of one half of the human body, and all of the class dissect the same part at the same time. Two men will be assigned to the same subject, and will work together during the course. The study of the skeleton is carried on with the dissection, and each student will be provided with a box of bones which may be kept throughout the course. There will be lectures or demonstrations which are arranged to correspond as closely as possible with the work in the dissecting room. These lectures not only will serve as a guide to the regular work in the dissecting room, but also will be used to emphasize those details of human anatomy which the student cannot easily study for himself in his own dissection. Special dissections made by prosectors from the second-year class, frozen sections, and various anatomical specimens and preparations will be displayed each day to illustrate and supplement that part of the subject treated in the lecture, or about to be studied in the dissecting room. Students are urged to examine these specimens carefully, and to discuss them informally with the instructors. Students will be quizzed each week on their work in the laboratory by the instructors in charge of their section. Practical examinations only will be given in the first year. At the end of the second-year course there will be a written examination which will cover the work in both courses.

The part of the course dealing with microscopic anatomy is a study of cells, tissues, and organs, from the developmental standpoint. The fundamental tissues and the various organs are traced to their adult form by the aid of chick embryos of 30 and 48 hours and pig embryos of 40 days, and sections of adult material. The course follows as nearly as possible the work in the dissecting room. In connection with the uterus, the human placenta and fetal membranes are considered, and several exercises are devoted to the central nervous system and sense organs.

Second Year. — The course in second-year anatomy is conducted twice a week during the first term. The class is divided into two sections. The work will consist chiefly of the careful study and drawing of selected frozen sections of the human body. Anatomical charts, special dissections, and preparations will be displayed in the laboratory to illustrate the various structures seen in the sections. The drawings are to be handed in at frequent intervals for correction, and they will be discussed with each student. There will be also frequent informal, individual quizzes and discussions as the work progresses.

The course is intended to serve as a topographical review of the work of the first year, and to lead to a close correlation of anatomy and the clinical courses in physical diagnosis. There will be a final written examination which will cover the work in both the first- and second-year courses in anatomy.

In the Laboratories of Physiology, the Departments of Physiology, Comparative Physiology, and Physical Chemistry, of the Harvard Medical School, coöperate with the Department of Physiology of the School of Public Health in offering courses of instruction and opportunities for research in the biological and physico-chemical problems of general physiology, in comparative physiology, mammalian physiology, and the physiological problems of general and industrial hygiene. A pamphlet describing the activities of the Laboratories in some detail may be had upon application to Dr. A. C. Redfield, Chairman of the Laboratories of Physiology, Harvard Medical School, Boston.

REQUIRED COURSES

First Year.—The following objects govern the presentation of this course in Physiology.

1. To acquaint the student with the method of experiment as applied to the acquisition of knowledge of physiological facts and to teach him how such facts may be correlated so as to explain physiological phenomena.

2. To cause the student to perform a series of experiments which demonstrate the more fundamental concepts of physiology which will help him to understand the phenomena of health and disease in man, and in the case of those phenomena which fail to lend themselves to such treatment to present in the lecture room an exposition of the experimental procedures from which the concepts have arisen.

3. To train the student to correlate his knowledge of the physiology of the different parts or systems of the organism into an understanding of its activity as a whole, and to show him the utility of applying physiological concepts to the study of medicine.

The first three weeks are devoted to the first of these objects. In the laboratory a series of experiments will be performed which, while designed primarily for training the student to handle living tissue, to make and interpret graphic records, and to draw from experiment a deduction concerning the phenomenon in question, will serve to demonstrate the chief facts on which our conceptions of the nature of excitation, conduction and response in muscle and nerve are based. In the accompanying lectures and conferences the student will be shown how these facts may be correlated and applied to the elucidation of the coördinate activity of the heart and the neuro-muscular mechanism.

Following this period the class will devote three weeks to each of the following series of laboratory exercises.

1. THE CENTRAL NERVOUS SYSTEM AND SPECIAL SENSES.—Experiments illustrating the principal conceptions concerning the properties of the reflex arc and the integration of reflex activity in the central nervous system, the functions of the higher nervous centers, the nature of voluntary and reflex movement and of the maintenance of posture, the control of visceral organs by the autonomic nervous system, the phenomena of refraction in the eye, the function of the semi-circular canals and the properties and distribution of sensory end-organs in the skin.

2. THE CIRCULATION OF THE BLOOD.—Experiments illustrating the events of the cardiac cycle in the reptilian and mammalian heart, the factors controlling the pressure and flow of blood in the arteries and veins, the nervous control of the circulation, and the effects of the circulation on the activities of muscles and glands will give the student extensive experience in the performance of operative procedures upon anesthetized mammals. The principles thus brought out will be applied to the interpretation of experiments performed upon the students themselves with methods adapted to the clinical study of the circulation.

3. METABOLISM AND RESPIRATION. — Experiments illustrating the fundamental facts concerned in the gaseous exchange of the body are particularly well adapted to train the student in the use of quantitative methods in the study of human physiology. They will include a study of the method of gas analysis, the determination of basal metabolism, the measurement of the tension of the gases in the alveolar air and in the venous blood, the estimation of the output of the heart per minute, the effect of exercise upon the factors concerned in the gaseous exchange, the chemical control of the ventilation of the lung, and the determination of the efficiency of methods of artificial respiration. In addition, the nervous control of the pulmonary ventilation and the gas content of the arterial and venous blood under various conditions will be illustrated by experiments and demonstrations on an anesthetized mammal.

4. THE BLOOD AND BODY FLUIDS. — Experiments illustrating the carriage of oxygen and carbon dioxide by the blood, the fundamental facts of the acid base equilibrium, the physiological importance of the physical properties of the body fluids, i. e., osmotic pressure, salt content, temperature, etc., the coagulation of the blood, the regulation of its water content by the kidney, the secretion of lymph, and the properties desirable in solutions used for transfusion.

While this experimental work is in progress formal lectures will be given three times a week in which the subject will be outlined with special reference to the interrelation of the various subjects studied in the laboratory. These lectures will treat also of the physiology of those phenomena on which no laboratory work is given, such as the digestive system, the endocrine glands, the regulation of body temperature, the cerebro-spinal fluid, etc.

BEATRICE C. SEEGAL, M.D., Research Fellow in Pathology and Fellow of the National Research Council.

REQUIRED COURSES

Second Year. — The course in Pathology consists of laboratory work and lectures. The basis of the laboratory work is a systematic course in pathological histology. In connection with this there are demonstrations of fresh material and museum specimens and experiments on animals bearing on the subjects studied. For demonstrations, autopsy attendance, and experimental work the students are divided into small sections. The demonstrations and experimental work are given in connection with the subjects which are being studied, in rooms adjoining the main laboratory which are adequately provided with apparatus. Lectures are given three days in the week by Drs. WOLBACH and WRIGHT. The object of the lectures is to expand and coördinate the knowledge which the student obtains by the study of material and to introduce important recent advances not yet incorporated in text-books. During the entire period of the course groups of students are sent to the various hospitals to see and assist in post-mortem examinations. The post-mortem material of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, the Massachusetts General Hospital, the Infants' Hospital, the Children's Hospital, the Boston Lying-In Hospital, the Huntington Hospital, the House of the Good Samaritan, and the Long Island Hospital is available for instruction. Each group prepares microscopical specimens of the tissues from each autopsy they attend, and immediately afterwards meets for a conference with one of the instructors, when the whole case is reviewed and discussed. At these conferences the clinical history of the case is read, and as far as possible the pathological findings are correlated with the clinical features. No attempt is made to separate the subject of Pathology into general pathology and pathological anatomy, but the subject is studied as a whole. The more important organs of the body are covered, towards the end of the course, with reference to their special pathology, particularly the blood, liver, spleen, kidneys, pancreas, and genitalia. In teaching, the student is taught methods of work, is given material, and directed, but he is taught to work independently. Tumors and other material coming from the surgical clinics are made full use of in the course. Conferences and recitations will occasionally be substituted for regular laboratory work.

On Saturdays conferences and recitations are substituted for the regular laboratory work.

In the afternoons of February Drs. TYZZER and FABYAN give a course of lectures and laboratory exercises on animal parasites, particularly the protozoa and the infections produced by them.

Approximately fifty hours are given to lectures and laboratory work in neuropathology, certain exercises being interdigitated with the course in general pathology, and twelve consecutive exercises in the more special diseases of the nervous system are given in April and May. (See Neuro-pathology.)

Third Year. — Clinical pathological demonstrations are held two hours a week throughout the year in the pathological amphitheatre alternately of the P.B.B.H. and of the M.G.H. Autopsy material is presented along with the case records.

REQUIRED COURSES

The instruction given by the Department of Medicine consists in lectures, recitations, amphitheatre clinics, practical work in the out-patient department and wards of the hospitals, and a thorough course in clinical pathology given at the Harvard Medical School in the laboratory of the Department.

Second and Third Years. — The time given to the Department of Medicine in the medical curriculum comes in the second half of the second year and throughout the third and fourth years. During the second half of the second year, instruction in the methods of history taking, physical examination, and laboratory technique is offered, and a few lectures and demonstrations introductory to internal medicine. Throughout the third year the subjects of internal medicine are covered by lectures, clinics, and recitations. During the third year also the students come in intimate contact with patients in the out-door departments of the various hospitals in small groups under the supervision of instructors. Throughout this year a clinical pathological conference is held weekly in conjunction with the Department of Pathology. Voluntary courses are offered to third-year students at various times throughout the year.

Fourth Year.—In this year the students serve as clinical clerks in the wards of a general hospital for one or two months and spend one month as assistants to the clinic in the out-door departments. Each student is expected to work up some problem to present for discussion during this month. In this year the students in small sections have special instruction at a hospital exclusively for tubercular patients. Opportunity is offered in the fourth year for specially qualified students to take advanced courses and carry on research problems in internal medicine.

The instruction is given at the Harvard Medical School, the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, the Massachusetts General Hospital, the Boston City Hospital and several other hospitals devoted to special purposes. In this course on medical psychology the student will have an opportunity of studying briefly the emotional reactions, their modification by experience, the rôle played in these reactions by the various systems; the ability to receive, elaborate, store, and reactivate impressions; variations in constitutional endowment; special lines of weakness; the importance of personal factors in medicine in general, and especially in relation to nervous and mental disorders.

Third Year. — From September 22 through January clinical lectures will be given once a week at the Psychopathic Hospital. An endeavor will be made to present examples of all the most important varieties of mental disorder, with special emphasis on the mild and incipient cases which are frequently treated by the general practitioner. More attention will be given to the dynamic analysis and the practical problems of the individual case than to questions of formal classification. Some examples of nervous and mental disorders of childhood will be presented.

During half of the course the student will lodge at the hospital, and devote his time chiefly to attendance on cases in the out-patient clinic. In the course of his work he will be called on to assist at operations in the out-patient department, and will be expected, when his other duties permit, to make ward visits with the physician on duty in the house. In the other half of the course he will conduct the convalescence of the cases delivered by him during his resident service, and make daily ward visits at which clinical instruction will be given in the general management of normal and abnormal labor, in the study of the puerperal convalescence, and in the care of the young infant. ### RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

A medical unit of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps provides systematic training for the purpose of qualifying selected students for appointment in the medical officers Reserve Corps in the military forces of the United States. Thirty lectures on medico-military subjects are given by the Professor of Military Science and Tactics during each of the four school years to the students who have been enrolled as members of the medical unit. There are two courses of instruction, basic and advanced, the former occupying the first two years, the latter the last two years of the medical course. Selected students are eligible for appointment as internes in Army hospitals for twelve months. This follows appointment to the Reserve Corps upon receiving the degree in medicine.

In addition to the instruction by means of lectures, students who have completed the basic course and have been enrolled in the advanced course will attend a course of military instruction of about six weeks' duration at a summer camp.

Having completed the basic course, students are entitled to draw, during the last two years, while enrolled in the advanced course, commutation of rations amounting at present to approximately $108 per annum, paid quarterly. This, with camp allowances, amounts to some $250 for the last two years. All expenses of the camp term, including transportation, are borne by the War Department. This camp of instruction lasts six weeks and is held at the Medical Field Service School at Carlisle, Pennsylvania. A trip to the battlefield at Gettysburg is taken during the camp term.
